Safety contribution charge by mid-2016

Denmark

The safety contribution charge for Denmark is reduced to 5.50 DKK. The charge for the Faroe Islands remains 6.00 DKK

Due to the change in the Law on civil aviation the safety contribution charge is reduced from 6.00 DKK to 5.50 DKK per passenger travelling from Denmark. The charge for the Faroe Islands remains unchanged at 6.00 DKK per passenger.

Air carriers are subject to the safety contribution charge when departing from a Danish airport the use of which is open to the public. The safety contribution is charged for every passenger travelling, except for passengers below the age of 2, transit and transfer passengers and airline staff on duty

The charge is applicable for transport with an aircraft approved for more than 10 passenger seats or has a maximum takeoff weight of more than 5700 kg.

The safety contribution charge was implemented in Denmark in 2013 and in 2016 in the Faroe Islands, and is regulated in table 2B in Bekendtgørelse om Trafik- og Byggestyrelsens gebyrer og afgifter på luftfartsområdet mv.

Further information about the safety contribution can be found in § 148 in the Law on civil aviation.
